2026 Hugo, Lodestar and Astounding Awards: Full Statistics

Nominations

1,488 nominating ballots were received (1,482 electronic, 6 paper).

The last place on the ballot in five categories was decided by a single vote: Best Novelette, Best Short Story, Best Dramatic Presentation-Long Form, Best Professional Artist, Lodestar Award

The last place on the ballot in six categories was decided by a margin of two votes: Best Series, Best Graphic Story or Comic, Best Fan Writer, Best Fan Artist, Best Poem, Astounding Award.

Voting Phase

2,492 final ballots were received (2490 electronic, 2 paper).

In all but four categories, the finalist receiving the most 1st preference votes went on to win the category. This included the two categories with the closest margins. In Best Fancast the winner won by just 9 votes, after being in 2nd place for the first five rounds of counting and winning on the sixth and final round. In the Lodestar award, the winner won by 12 votes after being in 4th place for the first three rounds of counting, then in 3rd, then 2nd, and then winning on the sixth round - an amazing come from behind win. Less dramatically, in Best Fan Writer the winner was in 2nd for the first three rounds of voting. And in Best Fanzine, the winner was 2nd for just the first round.

At lower placings, there was a tie for 3rd place in Best Editor Short, and for 4th place in Best Novelette. In both the Lodestar Award and Best Series, 4th place was won by 2 votes.

In Best Novel, there was a three-way tie between the works up for elimination in round three.

In Best Short Story, the work that went head-to-head with the winner in the sixth round for 1st place went on to finish 6th in the category.

The most decisive contest was for Best Fan Artist, where the winner received 44% of first preferences and won on the fifth count of a possible six. The only other category where the winner was decided in five rounds was Best Dramatic Presentation-Short Form.

Best Dramatic Presentation-Long Form also saw a very decisive victory, with the winner receiving 48% of nominating votes and 36% of final ballot first preferences.

While having the most 1st preference votes in the voting stage was highly predictive of winning, the placements at the nomination phase were much more varied. In only 8 of 21 categories did the eventual winner place first in nominations. For the rest: 3 winners had placed second, 7 winners had placed third, 2 winners had placed fourth, and 1 winner had placed fifth.

Detailed Nomination and Voting Statistics

Final ballot

The winner and lower places are determined by the single transferable vote. In the tables, the leader in each round of counting is shown in bold and the eliminated finalists in red.

In each category, a runoff vote is also conducted between the winner and No Award to determine if the winner has majority acceptance. All winners passed this test.

How Nominations are Tallied

Nominations for the Hugo Awards (and the Lodestar Award and Astounding Award) are tallied using a system known as E Pluribus Hugo (EPH). It has been in place since 2017 and is intended to reduce the impact of bloc voting in the nomination process. Under EPH, nomination votes are tallied as follows:

- First, the total number of nominations from all ballots is tallied for each nominee. At each stage when a nominee is eliminated, this number will be the deciding factor.
- Next, a single point is assigned to each individual voter's nomination ballot. That point is divided equally among all nominees on that ballot. (In later rounds of calculation, it is divided equally between remaining nominees.)
- Next, all EPH points from all nomination ballots are totaled for each nominee in that category.
- Next, the two nominees with the lowest EPH point totals are compared.
    - If there is a tie of more than two nominees with the lowest or second lowest point total, all of them are compared.
- Whichever of the nominees being compared has the fewer or fewest number of nominations (rather than EPH points) is eliminated and removed from all subsequent calculations.
    - If two or more nominees are tied for the fewest number of nominations, the nominee with the lowest point total at that round is eliminated.
    - If two or more nominees are tied for both fewest number of nominations and lowest point total, then all such nominees tied at that round shall be eliminated, unless that would leave fewer than six in play, in which case they all get onto the final ballot.
- Back to step 1 with the remaining nominees after the elimination.

Interpreting Nomination Tables

The column headed N lists the total number of nominations received by the nominee.

The columns to the right of that have the EPH points for each nominee, starting from the tenth last count (as specified in the WSFS Constitution). The two numbers in red in each of those columns show the points of the two (or more) nominees with the lowest EPH point totals, which are being compared to see which one should be eliminated.

The last column on the right is the final count, with the last eliminated nominee below the thicker line (if there were no withdrawals or disqualifications) and the remaining six above being the finalists who go on to appear on the ballot.

In cases where one or more of the top six nominees was not eligible for the category, or withdrew from consideration, they are struck through on the table and their places on the final ballot were taken by the last nominees to be eliminated, in reverse order, and the line is placed below the last nominee to reach the final ballot.

NB that the Hugo administrators do not make eligibility decisions regarding nominees unless they have enough votes to qualify for the final ballot, so it is possible that some nominees below the line would also not have been eligible.

[1] Both the Murderbot series and multiple individual episodes received enough votes to qualify for the ballot. Individual episodes were nominated by more voters than the entire series, so the series was excluded from the ballot by the Administrators.

Pluribus needed 1 more nomination to get on the ballot, or for Andor to have been excluded in favor of its nominations in BDP-Short.

[1] Both the Andor series and multiple individual episodes received enough votes to qualify for the ballot. The series was nominated by more voters than individual episodes, so the individual episodes were excluded from the ballot by the Administrators.

[2] Murderbot: “Free Commerce” received enough votes to qualify for the final ballot, but was withdrawn by the showrunners to abide by the limitation on number of episodes of the same show allowed in the category.

If Murderbot and Andor had both had more support in BDP-Long, the finalists making the ballot would have been the 4th, 7th, 8th, 10th, 11th and 12th on the long list.
